Credentials:

Lyn is a retired Kindergarten teacher. After retiring she followed her lifelong love of nature and gardening and received her Master Gardener certification from Cornell and began a garden consulting business, Lessons From Nature. Lessons From Nature provides on-site garden consulting and site assessment as well as selling organically grown perennials and native plants. Lyn is also an active volunteer for the Master Gardeners teaching and manning the hot line phones

Topics/programs available:

1. Fall Gardening – covers annuals, perennials, trees & shrubs, bulbs, tubers, when & how to divide, wintering over, weeds and protecting plants for winter.
2. Spring Gardening - What to do and when to do it in the garden in spring. A lot depends on the weather, but this program will cover the sequence of chores and how to do them.
3. Five Steps to Better Gardening: The program will cover the basics of successful gardening including:
 - a. Understanding your site and what will thrive there
 - b. Make a plan
 - c. Tools
 - d. Plant Care basics from purchasing and planting to dividing
 - e. Compost & mulch
4. Gardening on a Dime with Less Time – Covers many hints for saving time & money while improving your gardening.
5. Gardening without Chemicals - How to garden without harming the environment; an eco-friendly approach to gardening—saves time and money and improves your garden’s sustainability. This program covers basic gardening principles that will enable you to have a healthy garden and lawn without using environmentally harmful products. The specific areas covered are:
 - a. Lawn care - starting a new lawn, maintaining an existing lawn, mowing, fertilizing
 - b. Watering perennials.
 - c. Insect and disease management
 - d. Composting: basics and how it improves your garden
6. Creating A Natural Landscape - How to utilize plants that will survive in your habitat with a minimum amount of care.

7. Using Native Plants in Your Garden - The importance of using natives as well as a large variety of native plants that will grow successfully in our area.
 - a. What is a native plant vs. a weed or an invasive.
 - b. Advantages and disadvantages of growing natives.
 - c. How to grow native plants.
 - d. Where to get native plants.
 - e. Power Point program showing photographs of many natives grown in my yard growing requirements, and native range for each plant herbal properties where appropriate.
 - f. Attendees will receive an outline of the presentation as well as a complete list of plants covered.
8. Pruning - The how and why of good pruning technique and the tools you need. Excellent for late winter.
9. Site Assessment - A program from Cornell covering how to judge what will grow successfully on your property.
10. Seasonal Assessment of a GC Member's Garden - GC meets in one of their member's gardens and Lyn guides the group through a series of suggestions for maintenance, improvements, and seasonal chores.

I can design a program to suit your needs.

Name: Sally Cunningham
Address: 1335 Blakeley Road, East Aurora, N.Y. 14052
Phone/s: (716) 998-1573; E-mail: sallylacewing@aol.com (best communication method)

Credentials: Book author (Great Garden Companions), columnist (Buffalo News), TV gardening expert (WIVB-TV, Channel 4), former Cornell Cooperative Extension Agent, CNLP (Certified Landscape Consultant), consultant/educator at Lockwood's Greenhouses, Director of National Garden Festival.

Topics/programs available: (All PowerPoint style programs unless indicated otherwise; require your screen; prefer your digital projector/laptop but can supply them. Talks can be adapted for general audiences, keynote dinner programs, or for professional learners.)

1. Great Garden Companions: Sally's book of the same name has now sold 44,000 copies nationally. The book and program present a chemical-free system of gardening with a focus on companion plant combinations—herbs, flowers, vegetables—that attract beneficial insects and other garden helpers. Get to know your beneficial insects! Originally written for vegetable gardeners, the book and talk also help flower gardeners create a biodiverse, nature-friendly yard. Book signing/sale follow.
2. Lessons from Garden Walk Gardens: Garden Walk Buffalo, the largest event of its kind in the country, garners national publicity and attracts over 55,000 people. Upon its shoulders we've built a National Garden Festival. So what makes one garden a "Wow" and another just "rather pretty"? How do those gardeners get so much bang out of a small space—and in urban conditions? What plants, art, and artifacts really perform? Let Sally show you gardens through new eyes as you "garden-walk" with her.
3. Native Plants and Eco-friendly Landscapes: Suburban and urban homeowners have important roles in replacing the rapidly disappearing habitat upon which our birds and animals depend. Consider with Sally the plants and garden/landscape styling that work. Features underused native and some exotic, high-performing perennials, shrubs and trees. During some seasons actual plants may be shown.
4. More Bang with Perennials: The American front yard lacks flowers all too often. This program shows professionals, gardeners and homeowners new ways to use perennials around their property. Sally recommends superior perennials (less known and newer to the market) for wet, droughty, shady, hot, or difficult places. During some seasons Sally can bring perennial examples to show and sell afterward (optional).
5. What Every Gardener and Homeowner Should Know: Sally covers what everyone should all know (and so many don't) about the soil, trees, shrubs, flower beds and plant care—including plant selection, landscape design and eco-friendly "green" choices (low-care composting, water-wise plans, lawn alternatives). This high-energy; fast-moving talk is suitable for general audiences or any gardener who will be teaching and influencing others; time for questions. No digital; classroom style, can be done outdoors; handouts.
6. Great Plants/Great Gardens (with plants*) Choosing great plants is the secret of success, but how can you choose among so many new annuals, trees, shrubs, and improvements on the old perennials? Sally recommends superior plants for shade, sun, and other conditions, with tips on keeping them healthy. Questions welcomed; handout and door prizes; no pictures; gardening season only; plants shown and available for sale.

Speakers List

Sally Cunningham cont'd.

- 7. What Every Landscaper (and Homeowner) Should Know: Intense basic training for landscapers, CNLPs in training, consultants, or homeowners who want to take ownership of the landscape; will help you work with a landscaper as well. The talk also updates what longtime veteran landscapers and gardeners once learned about soil, amendments, trees, flowers, pests, pruning, and cultural/site problems. Includes the most-asked consumer questions. (Straight teaching, extensive handouts or notebook; no or very little digital; 1 to 3 hour choice; fee may vary)

Fees:

In Greater Buffalo/Niagara area: $135 plus mileage at $.50 per mile from home in East Aurora (for talks beyond 15 mile radius)

In nearby counties, Rochester, NW Pennsylvania (Drive over 1 hour; half day required): $200 plus mileage (Longer distances, other states negotiable).

The Garden Revolution: A Call to Trowels:

Designed specifically for the home gardener, this presentation focuses on the potential impact 90 million gardeners in the United States could have on climate change following the concept of "think global and act local". Even if you do not believe in climate change, this compelling presentation will prompt you into action and in the process show you how you can save money at the same time. Attendees are encouraged to bring at least one family member, relative or neighbor to understand how the active gardener's close relationship with nature can help solve what is predicted to be the largest problem facing the world in the near future. You will walk away with a list of actions easily taken to reduce your own carbon footprint. (35 minutes plus Q&A)

What is Your Carbon Footprint?

Not a day goes by without some media outlet discussing our carbon footprint and the consequences of failing to take action to reduce our carbon emissions. Severe weather conditions. Rising water levels in the oceans. Warmer summers. 97% of all scientists believe that mankind's carbon footprint may be at the core of these environmental impacts.

Whether you believe in climate change or not, this presentation will explain what makes up your carbon footprint and more importantly, practical actions you can take while saving money and maintaining your current lifestyle. This presentation will provide you with the ability to complete an inventory of your current carbon footprint, identify areas to reduce your carbon footprint and calculate your individual monetary savings. All attendees will be provided with a small take home booklet as a guide through the process and to monitor progress. (60 minutes w/5 minute break plus Q&A)

Topics/Programs with titles: (I'm happy to work with a requested topic as well)

- 1.) Native Culinary Herbs for the Home Garden - Native plants are gaining popularity for their support of wildlife, beauty, and adaptation to the local environment. However, native species are often absent from herb gardens and nursery herb departments. In this class, Sarah will spotlight several native plants that add flavor and flair to our dishes. We'll discuss growing conditions and how to use these plants in the kitchen. (See note about online course, #5).
- 2.) Medicinal Plants for the Home Garden - Whether you have a spacious backyard or a stoop for a few containers, you can enjoy beautiful, easy-to-grow plants with medicinal properties. In this class, Sarah will introduce you to safe uses of a few common ornamentals and introduce a several less-common plants as well. Sarah will include tips for cultivation and preparation after harvest.
- 3.) Native Medicinal Plants for the Home Garden - This class has a similar theme to #2, but we'll focus on plants that are native to the Eastern US.
- 4.) Backyard Remedies of Western NY - Wild edible & medicinal plants abound in Western NY. In this class, Sarah will focus on those that are easily found in lawns and gardens. Learn about identification and unique properties of plants like self-heal, burdock, violet, and more. We will discuss safe and sustainable harvesting, and what to do with these common "weeds."
- 5.) Garden club members receive a 10% discount on my upcoming online course: Native Culinary Herbs for the Home Garden.

Register at: sweetflagherbs.com/shop Use code at checkout: GARDEN10

Course may be completed at one's own pace; no live sessions. Each student must have their own registration/account. Discount code may be used for other items in the shop.

Speaking/Workshop Fee & mileage fee if applicable:

45 min-1 hour talk $150 including plant and/or recipe samples (if applicable for topic/season)

On Zoom $120; For locations further than 20 miles from my Gerry home: add $.67 per mile (Standard IRS).
